

NUKKAD NAATAK ON WOMEN ENTREPRENEURSHIP

“Women, like men, should try to do the impossible. And when they fail, their failure should be a challenge to others.”

- Amelia Earhar

A Street Play (Nukkad Natak) was organized by the Legal Aid and Awareness Committee (LAAC) on 26th March 2019 at Ghanta Ghar. Since, it is one of the busiest areas in Jodhpur, each time it is our prime location for performing the natak. It was primarily focusing on the theme “Women Entrepreneurship” and was titled "Badlav Samay Ki Pukar" We chose this theme because women empowerment does not only foster by having discussions and debates, something real should be there in the hands of the women. This comes with being economically independent. Earning for yourself also gives women a power to become self sufficient.

We gathered audience by shouting the phrase “Aao aao natak dhekho, natak dhekho” along with the banner of the committee. After performing the play, we distributed the pamphlets of our legal aid cell to the people. This helps us in spreading our reach so that maximum numbers of people are aware of free legal aid services provided by us.

This event became a huge success for us, as the same was covered by local newspapers of Jodhpur and the viewers realized the importance of the play. We were able to drive home the message of letting women work for their confidence and economic independence.
